For the effective implementation of the National Education Policy 2020 as well as to meet the needs of the 21st century, SNDT Women's University has established the Centre for Holistic Education, Training and Novel Advancements (SNDTWU-CHETNA). It will provide courses and programs to build character through human and constitutional values and also, develop life skills, employability skills, and 21st-century skills required for the betterment of society, the environment, and the whole ecosystem. The center will develop a culture of collaboration with greater autonomy, flexibility, access, and choice for the holistic development of learners and novel advancement in research, curriculum, teaching-learning, assessment, educational resources, and community outreach. SNDT-CHETNA has been established to provide facilities to students for their holistic development through a variety of short-term courses.

I congratulate Principal Nalini Patil, Director of CHETNA, Professor Sachin Deore, Coordinator of CHETNA, and all campus coordinators who have worked tirelessly to conceptualize and compile this policy document.

Preface

Education plays a vital role in shaping the future of our society. It cultivates individuals who have the potential to bring innovative solutions to the problems that our world is facing today. With this in mind, we at SNDT Women's University believe that nurturing the intrinsic capabilities of students is crucial to sustainable development. The integration of knowledge, unity, and integrity must be at the core of the educational system for students to develop their full potential.

Our vision is to create an environment where every student has the opportunity to nurture their intrinsic capabilities. We believe that every individual has a unique set of skills, talents, and abilities, which, when harnessed suitably, can empower them to lead fulfilling lives. We strive to create an environment that fosters creativity, curiosity, and collaboration, where students can learn from each other and from the world around them.

Our mission is to provide a conducive environment for the development of capacities of students in an integrated manner, leading to a sustainable future. We aim to achieve this by providing students with access to a diverse range of opportunities and resources that enable them to hone their skills and develop new ones. Additionally, we focus on instilling values such as honesty, responsibility, and respect for others to build strong and ethical individuals who can contribute to society's growth positively.

We believe that the integration of academic, social, and emotional learning is key to developing well-rounded individuals who can contribute significantly to society. By nurturing the intrinsic capabilities of our students, we hope to create individuals who are confident, curious, and have the drive to make a positive difference in the world.

Introduction

A quality education should prepare an individual to face the challenges of the world. Learning is no longer just about the acquisition of facts and knowledge; it needs to be applied to real-world situations with an understanding of consequences outside the learning environment. An education system that encompasses a well-rounded, balanced education is one that produces active and productive global citizens who are globally-aware and engaged 21st century citizens. For this to occur, students need opportunities to develop not just the knowledge, but the skills, mindset, and moral standards required for a successful professional and personal life. This mission calls for the provision of a holistic education; one concerned with the growth of a student's intellectual, emotional, social, physical, artistic, creative and spiritual potentials, and which is in tune with each child's unique needs and expertise. It actively engages students in the teaching and learning process, encouraging personal growth and collective responsibility.

Providing a secure environment in which students can explore their intrinsic potential is essential in the delivery of holistic education. By providing this we can enlighten the students to innate skills, letting them dedicate time to areas in which they are truly passionate. The advantages of this can be felt throughout the person's life as they gain a self-actualisation that installs confidence and self-worth.

Education doesn't have to be boring, it can be a rich, experiential journey of discovery and expression, where all students and teachers grow together. It should be an inquiry-driven, interdisciplinary and integrated experience that takes into consideration all aspects of child development. In holistic education, there are no deficits in learners, only differences. The NEP 2020 describes the aim of holistic and multidisciplinary education as 'development of all capacities of human beings -intellectual, aesthetic, social, physical, emotional, and moral in an integrated manner'.
